At70'clock this morning a colored porter at the Custom House, on entering the office of the District Attorney from the Judge's room, discovered Mr. Alanson B. Long, United States District Attorney, lying on the floor quite dead, and weltering in his blood. Quickly locking the door, he at once gave the alarm, and in a few minutes the sickening story was in the mouths of hundreds. hundreds.

The unfortunate man was on his back, with his knees drawn up and arms extended. The right index fluger was pointing toward the ceiling over the large bookcase, and the other fingers we e open. The left hand was naturally open, and rested against the elbow of the right arm. His head was thrown a little back and the chin raised,
but the mouth and eyes were closed.
The deceased wore black broadcloth trowsers and a vest of the same material, but his coat had been taken off. Every portion of the shirt exposed, including the sleeves, was saturated with blood, and had the appearance of a garment dyed in

A deep cut just across the throat, proba bly four inches long and two and a half that width, which nearly severed each wrist, were the only wounds. Near the sofa, and perhaps five feet from the body. Iny a thin-bladed razor with a white handle, covered with blood.

There was scarce a part of the room, with the exception of the right or north wall, unstained by blood. Just behind the screen to the left was a pool of gore probably three for the left was a pool of gore probably three feet in length by two in width, which had clotted. On a projecting corner near it were great blotches of the crimson floot. The sill of the window had the appearance of having been grappled by bloody hands, drops of gore were on the sofa, and the walnut table was completely spattered. On one corner of the table a scratch, made apparently with a nail or some hard subapparently with a nail or some hard sub-stance, was evidently done recently. On the wall next the Judge's room, to the right of the door, is another great spot which seems to have been wiped off by a which seems to have been wiped off by a hand. Nothing, however, has the appearance of having been rifled. Several piles of documents were lying undisturbed on the desk. On the table was a dictionary, an atlas of the world, a directory, and "Wharton's Proceedings of Indictments." The latter was stuck to the table by the dried blood, and its cover was spotted. The hat of the deceased was also there. hat of the deceased was also there.

At the resignation of Judge Morgan,

United States District Attorney for the District of Louisiana, Mr. Long was appointed to that position, and during his official career won the confidence and esteem of not only a host of friends, but the almost implicit faith of the Government at Washington. Mr. Long was a hard student, and a most tenacious protector of the interests of his clients. Once retained, no man ever trust-ed his business to any other counsel. His integrity was unimpeachable, and his temperaturegenial and cheerful.— New Orloans Times.

"Fetch on Your Rats."

Adam Belper keeps a tavern in Allegiany. One rather gloomy evening recently, when Adam was in rather a gloomy humor, a stranger presented himself about bedtime, and asked to stay all night.

"Certainly, sir," said Adam, eveing the seedy-looking stranger. "If you take breakfast it will be youst one dollar."

"But I have no money," said the man.

"I am dead broke; but if you will only trust me—."

"have you got any rats here?"
"Yes," said Adam, "you'd better believe we have. Why, the place is lousy mit

So the stranger, a gaunt, sallow, melan-chely-looking man, was shown to bed, and no doubt had a good sleep. After break fast the next morning, Mr. Belper took oc-casion in a very gentle manner to remind his guest of the contract made the previous

"What, kill your rats! Certainly," said the melancholy stranger. "Where are they the thickest?"

"Dey are pretty dick in the baru-yard," answered Adam.
"Worl, let's go out there," said the singular, "But, stop? Have you got a place of lemp-iron?"

"Now," said he to Adam, "I am ready. Fetch on your rats."

How this scene terminated we are not precisely informed. It is said that, although no rats answered the appeal of the stranger, Mr. Beiper began to smell one pretty strongly at this juncture, and because very angry. One Uniting is certain, and that is, that the new boarder was not at Adam's table for Ginner, nor for any at Adam's table for Ginner, nor for any subsequent meal. He had suddenly re-solved to depart, or baldy to pursue his avocation of rat-killing in other quarters.

Sickness, Pain and Death

Legitimately result as penalties for violations of natural laws, from which none can escape.

The inded check, the pale and wan features, the dust eye, the clouded intellect, the deep beaving sigh, the feeble and emiciated frame, the dejected brow, the intering gait, all indicate previous transgression of law. Knowing that "procrastination is the thic of time," all intelligent beings apply for some remedy as seen as electurations the thic of time, "all intelligent beings apply for some remedy as seen as electurations are permit; while those who do not act upon the principle that "delays are diangerous," generally linger tose more time and pay more seenes.

Thousands of methers and daughters, in all stations and conditions of life, are suffering, lingering and dying from the effects of some decaded and dreadful

Female Complaint.

That claims its victims thoughout the length and breadth of our land.
Many females suffer in some way at each mountaly period; some girls are in great period; some girls are in great period; at the commencement of meastranton, while older considered its decline at the "turn of life." Sometimes the meastrant how is too much, or too liftle, or may be attended with pain; may be irregular or entirely checked, or changed in appearance, attended with other distressing symptoms. Letter corribos, or the "Whites," frequentity drains the system, or absertains of the womb may create pain and cause rapid prostration.

Falling of the womb is an exceedingly common complaint, giving much freshle and distress, which, under ordinary treatment, is difficult to care.

Hysteries, Green Sichness, Irritability of the Womb, and other serious and fatal complaints fellow the female sex throughout life. Laves there a medical gentleman who has or can relieve the fair sex of the above treables. Not many. In there we combinate or fremedial agents that will come to her rescae? We answer, Yes.

English Female Bitters,

The only acknowledged Uterine Tonic and Female Regulator Known, will cure all those complaints above mentioned in an incredible short time. The litters at once arouses, strengthere and restores the womb to its natural condition, roweing obstructions, relieving pain and regulating the monthly period. Younce stands a pale, feeble and integrity period. Younce stands a pate is the latter pride of all, but hard I she silently steals a pickle, cats chalk, or a state pennil; he appetite for food she turns with a duil eye and seeks solitude; her eye no longer sparktes, her merry imagh is no longer heard ringing through the aim she modes about with bloodiess lips and guine, with headache, palpitation, constitution, swimming of the head, cold feet and hands, melancholy; she has a context forigue, offensive breath, and a heet of other evils too numerous to mention.

When neglected all these symptoms become aggravated, there is sick stonatch, heartburn, a dark line services under the eyes, the legs and anhies are swolen, the hair loses is gloss and falls off, there is tritlennes and splitting of the finger unity, swoller, abdomad, extremo nervousness, fredulness, pains and aches, day south, hysterical tha, rapid prostration, epilopsy and death if you, or any of your friends, are thus afficiently and at once for a Bottle of English Fennike Butters and be cured. Its effects are magical in such complaints.

Death is at the Door.

In all these complaints the system evidently shows a want of red blood, and Mr. Churchill, in his work on Discases of Females, says: "Bearing in mind that the blood is remarkably deficient in red corpuscles, and the known property of iron to correct this condition, theory suggests it as the most to be relied on, the best of which is the Citrate." Citrate of Iron enters largely into the composition of English Female Bitters, combined with powerful vegetable tonics of rare qualities.

Among the mountains of Tennessee and the pincy woods of Mississippi, is found a certain hard and flinty root, which has been in scoret une by some old min-wives for many years, pessessing angle powers in regulating and restoring all females suffering with any affection of the womb. This root we have obtained, gave it a fair test in our gractice, and it is now one of the reinciple ingredients in these Bitters. Other powerful uterina and general tonics also enter into its composition. We also add Leptandra or Black root, sufficient to get upon the liver and keep the bowels open.

Blooming Young Girls,

Middle-aged matrons, these at the critical period, and the aged grandmother, are all cured by the use of our English Female Bitters, now prescribed and used by physicians all over the country.

If you are troubled with Falling of the Womb, attended with a sense of weight and bearing down pain in the back and side, and other attendant evils, Raglish Female Bitters will give entire relief.

Those at the Turn of life," mothers after confine-Female litters will give entire relief.

Those at the "turn of life," mothers after continument, and so others unale or formale) who are convaled cents from any protracted or debilitating countaints, who gain strength slowly, and whose digestion is slow and imperient, will find these Bitters the very thing their system demands. It gives a powerful apposite, aids and assists digestion, arouses the liver, strengthens mentally and physically, and falls the whole system with pure crimson blood coursing through its channels.

Common Grogshop Bitters

Empty billion britles, of various styles, can be found around amount every dwelling and embin throughout the land. Their baste is pleasure, and are advertised to the almost every discuse, while the manufacturers amountly properties whatever. They are so many discuss for recentledy accommon personners, which do not, not emmon, possibly care any one.

Reware of these pleasant latins in quart bottless, they contain a sing for your vitale, and he who large they contain a sing for your vitale, and he who large they contain a sing for your vitale, and he who large them carries a toper's grag into his house. One man who knows eathing about medicine, says he his bottless of common staff will care chils and tover, rheamation and consumption; another, whose bottle is very laney, curse all impurities of the blood, makes old man young, casts out devile, restores shalt to the hind, and namerous other miracles; while yet another, who presumes every man a drankard, propose to care estior, ingrowing hairs, yetlow fever, heart discuss and love-sick maidens! We know they make no such cares; we know the people at large are deceived and swindled, and as we desire to ventilate these common humburs, make the following challenge to one and all:

One Hundred Dollars

That one tablespoonful of ENGLISH FEMALE BIT-TERS contains as much medicinal properties as one bottle of any of the pirmanuly tasted, common adver-tised bitters of the day!
